

Faculty Participation in Faculty Development Programme : Advancing Knowledge in AI-Driven Power, Energy and Electric Transportation

The Department of Humanities and Sciences is pleased to congratulate Dr. A. Pavani, Dr. K. Gayathri Devi, and Ms. G. Lakshmi Bhavani on their successful participation in the One-Week Faculty Development Programme (FDP) on "AI-Driven Transformation of Power, Energy, and Electric Transportation." The programme was organized by the Department of Electrical and Electronics Engineering, Vignan Institute of Technology & Science (Autonomous), Hyderabad, and was conducted from 29 June 2026 to 04 July 2026.

The Faculty Development Programme provided participants with valuable insights into the latest advancements in Artificial Intelligence and its transformative applications in the fields of power systems, renewable energy, electric mobility, and sustainable transportation. The sessions offered an excellent platform to explore emerging technologies, interact with experts, and understand innovative solutions shaping the future of the energy sector.

Participation in such professional development programmes reflects our department's commitment to continuous learning, academic excellence, and interdisciplinary knowledge enhancement. The knowledge and skills gained through this programme will further enrich classroom teaching, strengthen research initiatives, and enable faculty members to introduce students to cutting-edge technological developments in engineering and applied sciences.
